Dear Parents and Friends,

Friday 11th July 2014

A lot has been squeezed into this week and it has been very engaging for the children. Peter J Murray, the author, enthused Key Stage 2 pupils on Monday and this was followed by an illuminating visit by his son Simon on Tuesday for children in years 1-4. The feedback from the children has been really positive and they clearly enjoyed the experience.

Unfortunately, the stormy weather on Tuesday cut short the reception trip, however, Mr Townsend said the children all enjoyed a trip in the lifeboat- on the sand- so many thanks to the Ryde Inshore Rescue who made this possible. On their return they enjoyed their picnic in the comfort of their dry classroom!

On Tuesday afternoon Year 6 also had a presentation about the aftermath of a road traffic accident and the emotional impact following the event. This was portrayed through drama by students from the IOW College. A very thought provoking afternoon.

On Wednesday morning an assembly was held to thank those children who participated in Walk the Wight, with staff from the Earl Mountbatten Hospice. Well done to all who took part in raising much appreciated funds.

PC Metcalfe also joined an assembly this week to speak to the whole school as there have been complaints from the public, that children have been throwing stones both up at the rec but also, very dangerously at passing cars. Please remind your children of appropriate behaviour if they are allowed out without an adult.

I have been catching up with the outstanding Golden Children this week and it has been a pleasure to look through their books with them. Many children are very clear about what they need to improve in their writing and having time to reflect with them has been informative as well as enjoyable.

On Monday morning, Karen Eeles the fundraising manager from Challenge and Adventure will be coming in to school to collect the completed Junior Challenge forms and money collected. Please remember to send this in with your child on Monday morning.

Don't forget the family disco tonight at 5.30pm, bring a picnic and enjoy the evening. In the event of wet weather a disco only for the children will go ahead.

Enjoy the weekend.

Kind regards,

Peta Mather
